Step 2	The teacher then tells the students that they are going to play a game in teams and whichever team finishes first, will be the winner. The teacher divides the students in groups of 3 or 4. The teacher next gives paper strips to students containing different parts of a conversation. Students are supposed to arrange the paper strips in the correct order to make a proper dialogue exchange. The teacher gives the instructions to students and asks one or two students randomly what they are supposed to do to confirm students have understood the instructions correctly.	5 minutes
Step 3	Next the teacher distributes the paper strips to each group containing statements from a conversation that students have to arrange in the correct order. The teacher moves from group to group and monitors. The teacher will facilitate wherever needed.	15 minutes
Step 4	Once the time is up the teacher selects two students from one or two groups randomly and tells them to deliver the dialogues in front of the class. The students act accordingly.	10 minutes

Step 5	The teacher tells the students that they will be asked the opening and ending phrases used in the conversation in the next class. The teacher then ends the class by saying “goodbye”.	5 minutes
